Downard, Posey, Senior Class Cited In Annual Senate, Student Voting

Dr. William Downard, recipient of the Wooden Cask Award, and Dr. John Posey, Professor-of-the-Year, were honored along with the club-of-the-year winner—the senior class—at Saint Joseph's College for 1976-77.

Symbolizing the bringing of good spirits to the campus community, the Wooden Cask Award (a cask of liquor) is given by the Senate to a member of the SJC faculty, staff, or administration on the basis of a) competence in his position as it benefits Saint Joe, b) non-academic rapport with students and student organizations, and a visible presence on campus, and c) promotion of the college beyond the campus, such as acting in town functions in the name of the college.

Dr. Downard is a 1963 graduate of Saint Joseph's, and earned his master's degree from the University of Cincinnati and his doctorate from Miami University of Ohio in 1969. He joined Saint Joseph's faculty in 1969 as an assistant professor of history, and he was promoted to associate professor in 1970.

Dr. William Downard, left, and Dr. John Posey received the Wooden Cask and Professor-of-the-Year awards, respectively, at the Senate banquet.

The basis for his selection was his participation in many aspects of student life, which includes being faculty advisor to the Student Association this year. Dr. Downard was previously elected professor-of-the-year for the 1974-75 school year.

Professor-of-the-year, Dr. Posey, was elected by the students on Apr. 6. It is primarily an academic award, and it emphasizes a) participation in Core as a discussion leader, organizer, or lecturer, b) expertise and clarity as a professor in his given field, c) availability to students for academic affairs (campus seminars, etc.).

Dr. Posey is a graduate of the University of Georgia, where he received his bachelor's degree in history (1958), his master's degree the following year, and his doctorate (1962). Dr. Posey joined the faculty in 1969 as an associate professor of history. He is currently director of the Non-Western Core program and has been recently promoted to a full professor.

Saint Joseph's Shares In Grants From Sears

Saint Joseph's College has received a grant of $800 from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Grants totalling more than $33,000 were distributed by the foundation during the week of Jan. 10-14 to 30 privately-supported colleges and universities in Indiana.

The Indiana colleges and universities are among almost 1,000 private, accredited two- and four-year institutions across the country which are sharing $1,250,000 in Sears Foundation funds for the 1976-77 academic year. Funds may be used unrestrictedly as the colleges and universities deem necessary.

In addition to its unrestricted grant program, the Sears-Roebuck Foundation each year conducts a variety of special-purpose programs in elementary, secondary, higher, and continuing education. Altogether, the foundation had expenditures of over $2,250,000 in 1976 for its education activities.

Club-of-the-year is chosen by the Senate on the basis of nominations from various senators, and upon the activeness of the club on campus. The senior class, led by president Ann Pantle, was selected by a majority of the Student Senate in recognition of the number of activities given or sponsored by the senior class.

Patricia Hajduch Wins Senior-Of-Year Honor

Patricia Hajduch, accounting-finance major from Whiting, Ind., recently received the Alumni Association's Senior-of-the-Year Award. In compiling a 3.97 cumulative index here in seven semesters, Miss Hajduch was also recognized with an award of academic excellence Apr. 15 during Saint Joseph's annual scholarship dinner in Chicago.

There is no real secret to academic success, so far as Miss Hajduch is concerned. She reports that an average of five to six hours of study daily, especially after the dinner hour, have been most helpful.

Life at Saint Joseph's has meant more than just studying to Miss Hajduch. She has worked in the college bank as a cashier-teller for two-and-a-half years, was chairperson of the Student Admissions Corps during 1975-76, and has been secretary of the Accounting-Finance Club for the past two years.

Miss Hajduch recently completed a two-month accounting internship with Crowe Chizek & Compnay in South Bend, Ind., where she will be employed after graduation.

"I found that I was very well prepared to undertake this internship," Miss Hajduch notes. "There were very few things I had not been taught, and those few things were easy to understand because of my educational experience."

She reports that her internship helped her determine that she wants to enter public accounting.

"I like public accounting because of the interaction with people, but eventually I would like to study for a master's degree and perhaps teach on the college level," she explains.

Miss Hajduch says she first heard of Saint Joseph's through her father, who attended SJC for two years. "I followed this up by visiting the school, and the campus atmosphere plus the fine reputation of the accounting-finance department convinced me that this was the school for me."

PATRICIA HAJDUCH

A consistent member of the Dean's List, Miss Hajduch has been listed for the last two years in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. She also was awarded the Ernst & Ernst Scholarship during her junior year.

"I am convinced that a small school is the only way to go in getting a good education; the teachers at Saint Joseph's have been willing to help in any way and fellow students also help when it comes to learning together," she reports.

Miss Hajduch, a 1973 graduate of Bishop Noll Institute, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hajduch of Whiting.

Fr. Gerlach Receives Kaiser Scholar Award

Father Dominic B. Gerlach, associate professor of history and German at Saint Joseph's College, was presented the Father Edwin G. Kaiser Faculty Scholar Award for excellence in teaching Apr. 5 during the school's annual academic awards dinner.

Father Kaiser is a professor emeritus of theology at Saint Joseph's.

A 55-year-old native of Fort Recovery, Ohio, Father Gerlach marked his 25th anniversary as a member of Saint Joseph's faculty last January.

He first came to Saint Joseph's as a student at the academy in 1941-42, then studied here at the college during 1942-44. He subsequently attended Saint Charles Seminary at Carthagen, Ohio, during 1944-50 and was ordained a priest on May 18, 1950.

During 1950-52, Father Gerlach attended St. Louis (Mo.) University and received his master's degree in history there in 1952.

Father Gerlach has studied at a series of summer schools or institutes, including: University of Michigan, 1956; Goethe Institute in Munich, Germany, 1962; Institute on Latin America, Catholic University, 1965; and Goethe Institute in Trier, Germany, 1972.

Named college archivist and historian in 1960, he has written numerous articles, including "St. Joseph's Indian Normal School, 1888-1896," in Indiana Magazine of History (March, 1973) and "Saint Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana" in the New Catholic Encyclopedia. During 1957-65, he translated eight articles for Philosophy Today.

During the 1976 Bicentennial, he researched more than 40 articles on Saint Joseph's history that were subsequently written and published by the college News Bureau.

Changes, Challenges Dot College-To-Career Year

What happens the first year after college graduation? According to four recent Saint Joseph's College graduates, the transition year from college-to-career offers both changes and challenges.

During a recent presentation sponsored by the college placement office, the graduates told of varied dealings in the professional and day-to-day world, ranging from shyster car mechanics and living alone to budgeting limited funds and making new friends.

Current seniors attending the presentation reflected their approaching concerns with a series of questions.

How do you make new friends? Seniors were told that meeting people at work or at night school and joining new activities, possibly civic or church-related, could help in this regard.

"Be assertive and tell the mechanic you want the car fixed," advised one graduate who encountered a dishonest auto mechanic. "I found this one way to keep from being cheated."

What was the graduates' biggest adjustment after graduation? Answers included: realizing limitations of time and energy, adapting to a normal sleeping and working schedule, being married, and being alone.

Subsequent discussions revealed that none of the four guest speakers had continued in his/her original career area. One alumna switched from elementary education into technical sales. A biology-chemistry major had taken his first job in plant management. After several years in various jobs, a communications major is now teaching high school students.

"This year out of college in the professional world taught these graduates to accept these changes as inevitable," explains Beth Pellicciotti, assistant director of guidance and placement, and moderator of the presentation. "Realizing that they could really direct their own lives proved the biggest change of all."

Panelists included Brenda Hahn (Rensselaer, Ind.), Dan Harbor (Indianapolis, Ind.), Al Waznis (Joliet, Ill.) and Laureene Szkalutski (Elmhurst, Ill.).

Fr. Froelich, head of the Guidance and Placement Office, along with assistant director Beth Pellicciotti sponsored recent alumni seminar on campus.

At our summer July Board meeting, Dale Fallat '66 will assume the presidency of our Alumni Association. His insight and ideas into alumni affairs is extensive, and unquestionably this office will be in good hands under his leadership. Len Zimmer '62 will serve as vice-president for alumni relations, Donna Knochel '65 will be vice-president for academics and recruiting, Mike Smith '63 will serve as vice-president for financial support and Ken Ahler '62 will be vice-president for campus relations.

I would like to thank the following who have served with me in office: Robert Ramesh '61, vice-president for alumni relations; Jerome Hoess '59, vice-president for financial support; James Buckley '48, vice-president for academics and recruiting; and Donna Knochel '65, vice-president for campus relations. I believe they deserve warm congratulations for their great effort. Also, a sincere thank you from all SJC alumni.

In addition, I would like to add that it has been an enlightening and rewarding experience for myself in serving as President of our Alumni Association.

Before closing, let me on behalf of the Alumni Association invite you and your family to attend our SJC Fun Weekend '77 scheduled on the Rensselaer campus for July 22-24. I hope you can attend this alumni function and share in all the scheduled festivities.

Sincerely,

Jim Madden

Bernie Hoffman Joins Sports Hall Of Fame

Saint Joseph's College paid fitting tribute to a fine basketball player Jan. 15 by formally inducting Bernie Hoffman of Jasper, Ind., into its Sports Hall of Fame.

Owner and operator of the Hoosier Business Machine Company in Jasper for the past 19 years, Hoffman paused during his special day to reflect on his fondest memories of Saint Joe basketball, changes in the game itself and changes he would like to see.

Hoffman's best-remembered games came in his senior year—one against Rider College of New Jersey and the other against Valparaiso.

"In 1943 I went to Chicago with coach Joe Dienhart one day to apply for a Veteran's Program, but was turned down because of poor eyesight. So we returned to campus and that night I scored 33 points against Rider, poor eyesight and all," he recalls.

Equally memorable, he says, was the night three weeks later when he tallied 40 points against Valparaiso, setting a fieldhouse record that stood for more than a decade.

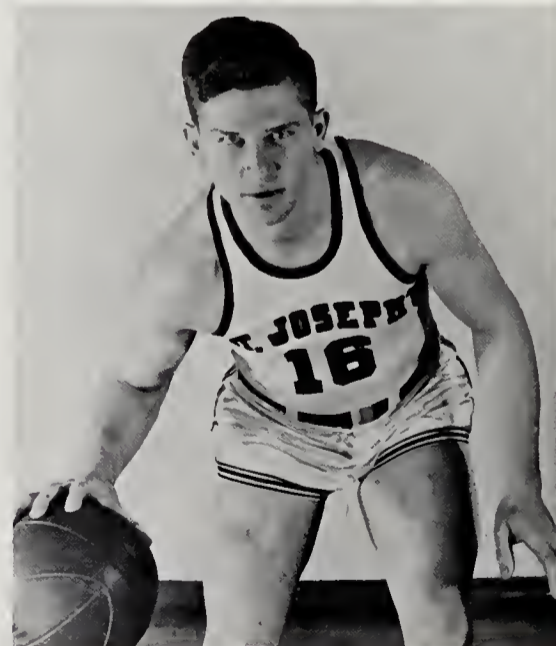

Hoffman can't speak about these highly-successful pre-war years of Saint Joe basketball without mentioning the man who made it possible: coach Joe Dienhart.

"He was a dynamic man who didn't waste a lot of words—when he told you something, it was always well worth listening to," he reports. "I'd say coach Joe's greatest asset was his ability to scout a team and immediately determine their weakness that could be exploited."

Hoffman agrees that the game of basketball has changed considerably since his playing days.

"Players are now bigger, quicker and stronger, but that hoop is still just ten feet high," he says. "I would suggest that the basket be raised at least six inches, maybe more."

He adds that an enlarged ball and hoop circumference should be considered. "This would eliminate the situation today where you see some players tossing the basketball around like a tennis ball," Hoffman believes. "And changes like these will help the smaller player of today."

BERNIE HOFFMAN, '43

He adds that he feels today's taller players do not face as great a challenge as they did in the early forties, because their size, strength and quickness is employed on a court and against a basket whose dimensions have not changed since then.

Hoffman concludes with this note, "Saint Joseph's is similar in many important ways now to the school I knew as a student. Then, as now, everyone knew everyone on this very personable campus. I was just a shy kid when I first came to Saint Joseph's, and it was a great experience for me to come to a campus that gives so much individual attention."

Flagman Raleigh Hinkle signifies victory for driver Terry Reedy as Saint Joseph's annual Little 500 go-kart race ends. His kart's lay-down driving position was the entry's most unusual feature.

Reedy Zips To Victory In Little 500

Terry Reedy piloted the Drexel Starship through 197 swift, safe laps Apr. 16 to capture the $500 first prize in the 14th running of Saint Joseph's annual Little 500 go-kart race.

Driving with textbook efficiency, Reedy raced home six laps ahead of faculty member Dr. Charles Kerlin in the Screaming Blue Zonker, go-kart no. 4, to capture the honors under predominantly warm and sunny skies.

Reedy's kart no. 25 was easy for race fans to spot, since he was the lone driver whose seat was arranged in a lay-down position, a sharp contrast to the more traditional sitting position. His 197 laps were the second-greatest number of laps ever by a Little 500 winner; the record of 201 laps was set by 1976 winner Chuck Primeau.

Reedy led throughout the race, charging from his second-place starting position to take the lead before the field even reached the first turn on the 7/10-mile race course. Despite his efficient diving, however, Reedy was pushed by a challenging field that produced the closest finish since the race was motorized in 1971.

Kerlin's 191 laps earned him and his crew the $250 second-place prize, while the $175 third-place honors went to the East Seifert entry Double Trouble, kart no. 44, co-driven through 189 laps by Brian Gidley and Bill Hardy.

Fourth place and $75 in prize money went to kart no. 43, the Question Mark Five, driven through 183 laps by Pat McSwain and Craig Andrews. Collegeville's women grabbed the $25 fifth-place honors as kart no. 14, the Justin Nomads, completed 182 laps driven by Peggy Sheeren and Debbie Waterman.

Accidents were both few and minor ones, usually limited to a kart skidding into hay bales or tires serving as safety guards on turns in the track, though one accident late in the race resulted in a 15-minute halt to the racing.

In that mishap, Kila Brown's kart spun in a turn and she was subsequently treated at Jasper County Hospital for abrasions.

Little 500 race chairmen Al Covelli and George Zebold termed the race the safest and most competitive yet at Saint Joseph's. Both credited careful advance planning as major factors in carrying out the successful race day.

Women Basketballers Roar To 14-2 Record

The Saint Joseph's women's basketball team concluded its season Feb. 27 and 28 by participating in the Indiana Women's Intercollegiate Sports Organization Tournament by defeating Indiana Tech, 52-50, and losing to Goshen 59-51. SJC ended its season with a 14-2 record.

Baseball Pumas Finish At 24-17; Taylor MVP

Saint Joseph's baseball team finished the 1977 season May 11 with a 24-17 record.

Catcher-outfielder Jeff Taylor, senior from Indianapolis, was named the Pumas' most valuable player for the season.

Other special awards were: top batting average and run scoring leadership, Kevin Sims, sophomore from West Lafayette, Ind.; runs batted in leadership, Taylor; leadership in stolen bases and golden glove award as the team's top defensive player, Warren Gephart, senior from Otterbein, Ind.; top won-loss percentage among pitchers, Tim Kuhar, senior from South Bend, Ind., and lowest earned run average, Mike Luck, sophomore from Remington, Ind.

Up, up and away—Nick Calo slams a double and the rest of the 1977 baseball Pumas look on in action against DePauw.

SJC SPORTS HALL OF FAME BALLOT

Each year the Saint Joseph's College Alumni Association selects alumni who excelled in athletics while in college or alumni who have been successful in their athletic accomplishments after leaving Saint Joseph's. To qualify to be nominated as a candidate for the SJC Sports Hall of Fame, the nominee must be an SJC graduate of at least five years, and be of outstanding character within his community.

The candidates for the Athletic Hall of Fame are nominated by the Alumni Association and selected by the Alumni Board of Directors.

Listed below are those already inducted into the Hall of Fame; we ask you to nominate one candidate not listed and return the ballot and letter of recommendation to Hall of Fame, Alumni Office, Saint Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana 47978. Nominations close July 1, 1977.
